

Contents

Introduction

The Role of the Individual, the State, and the Private Sector in Human Development

What is Human Development?	11
Indicators of Human Development	12
The Focus of This Report	13
How to Promote Human Development in Latvia	16
The Formation of Individual Competitiveness and the Development of Human Resources	16
Improving Public Administration	18
Participation by the Private Sector	19
Balanced and Socially Responsible Policy	20
Collective Strategies in Human Development	20

Chapter 1

Economic Growth and Human Development

Introduction	21
An Overview of Economic Growth	22
Investment	23
The Budget and Human Development	26
Household Income, Consumption, and Stratification	29
Self-Assessment of Material Circumstances	32
Social Insurance and Social Assistance	33
Conclusions and Recommendations	36

Chapter 2

The Individual and the State: Building Bridges, Overcoming Mistrust

Introduction	38
The Individual and the State: Trust or Alienation	38
The Individual and the State: Through the Prism of Poverty	40
Interrelationship of the Population, Local Governments, and the National Government: Decentralization and Participation in Governance	45
The Civil Service as Intermediary between the Individual and the State	47
Non-Governmental Organizations as the Link between the Individual, the State, and the Private Sector	50
Conclusions and Recommendations	54

Chapter 3

The Individual, the Private Sector, and the State: A Common Responsibility for the Development of the Labour Market

Introduction	56
Changes in the Labour Market	57
Work as a Value	58

Working Hours	60
Promoting Employability	61
Enhancing Employability	65
More Effective Use of the Labour Force's Potential	66
The Development of Social Dialogue	68
Recommendations for the Promotion of Social Dialogue and Employment	71
Chapter 4
The State and the Private Sector: Creating a Better Environment for Development
Introduction	73
Formation and Development of the Private Sector	73
Starting Up a Company: Opportunities and Obstacles	76
Structure and Growth of Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises	77
The SME Contribution to Employment, Wages, and Staff Motivation	81
Enterprise Relations with National and Local Government Agencies	84
Corruption	86
The Internal Organization of Business	88
State Support for the Private Sector	90
Conclusions and Recommendations for Improving the Business Environment	94
Conclusion
Recommendations	97
Appendix Tables	101
Bibliography	107
Boxes
i.1 The 1998 Global Human Development Report: Consumption and Human Development	17
1.1 The Link between Trade, the Balance of Payments and Human Development	27
1.2 Statistics Regarding the Rich Are Incomplete	30
1.3 Education – An Investment for the Future	35
2.1 The Faces of Poverty	42
2.2 The Relationship between the Central Government and Local Governments	44
2.3 A Social Profile of Latvia's Civil Servants	49
2.4 NGO Development in Latvia: Quantitative Indicators, Major Activities, Rural and Urban NGOs	51
2.5 One Non-Governmental Organization's Co-operation with Local Governments, Other NGOs, and the Private Sector	52
3.1 The Impact of the Russian Crisis on Latvia's Labour Market: The Case of Salacgrīva	57
3.2 The Career Counselling Center	64
3.3 Aging University Academic Staff	65
3.4 The State Employment Service	67
4.1 A Social Profile of Entrepreneurs in Latvia	77
4.2 Society's Attitude toward the Private Sector and Businesspeople	89
4.3 SME Development: Positive and Negative Factors	91
4.4 Research, Technological Innovation, and Development	92
Tables
i.1 Latvia's place in the world according to the HDI and Latvia's HDI, 1993 – 1998	12
1.1 Annual GDP Growth Rates in EU Candidate States	22

1.2	Real GDP Per Capita (PPP US$) in EU Candidate States	22
1.3	Components of GDP, 1997	24
1.4	Sources of Disposable Income for Latvian Households, 1996 – 1997	30
1.5	Structure of Expenditures for Latvian Households, 1996 – 1997	31
1.6	Self-Assessments of the Material Welfare of Latvian Households, 1996 – 1997	33
1.7	Average State Pensions	34
2.1	Political Attitudes of the Population as a Whole and of the Elite	40
2.2	Problems Encountered in Contacts with National and Local Government Agencies	46
2.3	“Have You Ever Had to Give Money or an Unofficial “Thank-You” at a National or Local Government Agency?”	47
2.4	Number of Candidate Civil Servants, 1998	48
4.1	Number of Active Enterprises	76
4.2	Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises by Sector and Region, 1998	78
4.3	Activities of Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises in Various Markets Over the Last Three Years	80
4.4	Ways in Which Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises Motivate Employees	83
4.5	Main Problems Encountered by Businesspeople in Contacts with National and Local Government Agencies	85
4.6	Bribery by Businesspeople in National and Local Government Agencies	87

Figures

i.1	Latvia 1996 – 1997: Indicators of Human Development	13
i.2	Human Development: Goals and Responsibilities	14
i.3	Social Partnership and Human Development	15
1.1	1997 Economic Growth by Sector	23
1.2	Structure of the Latvian Economy, Compared to the EU Average	24
1.3	Latvia’s State Investment Programme, 1995 – 1999	25
1.4	Economic Structure of Expenditures in the 1997 Consolidated Combined Budget	28
1.5	Sectoral Structure of Expenditures in the 1997 Consolidated Combined Budget	29
2.1	Confidence in Institutions	39
2.2	What People Know about Non-Governmental Organizations	53
3.1	Changes in the Number of Economically Active People and in the Number of People Employed	58
3.2	Work and Other Values	59
3.3	The Value of Work	60
3.4	Career Factors	61
3.5	Employees Rate Their Chances of Losing Their Job	62
3.6	Number of Graduates of Vocational Schools and Institutions of Secondary Specialized Education	63
3.7	Amount of Time Spent Looking for Employment	66
3.8	Trust in Labour Unions and Employers	70
4.1	The Private Sector in Latvia	74
4.2	Main Problems for Start-Up Businesses	78
4.3	Active Enterprises by Sector and by Type, Beginning of 1998	79
4.4	Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises by Sector and Size	79
4.5	Average Enterprise Turnover	80
4.6	Average Number of Employees by Type of Enterprise	81
4.7	Expected Changes in the Number of Employees in the Next Six Months	82
4.8	Employee Remuneration in Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises	83
4.9	Awareness of Activities to Encourage Small Business	93

Maps

3.1	People Looking for Employment as a Percentage of All Economically Active Residents, 1997	68
3.2	Unemployment Rate Registered by the State Employment Service	69
4.1	Number of Active Enterprises per 1000 Inhabitants	75
4.2	Industrial Production, 1997	75